Reading:

Hello, I'm Jonathan and I'm nine years old. I live near London. I go to primary school. At school we do many fun projects. Now we have a project about giant pandas and I love it. This is what I know about the pandas.

The giant panda, a panda bear or the panda is a big mammal. It lives in bamboo forests in the mountains of China. It's black and white. It's got a big black body with a white tummy. It is 1.5 metres long and it weighs about 100 kg. It's got a round white face with black eyes and black ears. A panda can stand on two legs and likes rolling. It can also climb trees and swim very well. The panda usually eats bamboo leaves and sometimes small fish and other animals. It eats a lot, usually about 12 kg of food every day. Pandas spend 12 hours a day eating their food.

Baby pandas are very small and pink. They are 15cm long, they are the size of a pencil! They can't see, either. They stay with the mother for 18 months.

You can't often see a panda, there are only 1000 panda bears in the wild and in the zoos. In the zoos they can live up to 30 years old.
